Proclaims Farm Bureau Week

Shown above is Judge Finis Odum as he proclaimed February 7-12, as Farm Bureau Week. Looking on is R. E. Lively, 1972 Farm Bureau membership chairman. Mr. Lively announced that the volunteer workers will meet at the Diamond Cafe at noon on Wednesday of this week and begin contacting prospective Farm Bureau members. The membership chairman reported that 700 members have already renewed in response to the mail solicitation. The quota for 1972 is 841 members.

Bumpers Cites Dramatic Opportunities Open

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers told a joint meeting of the Arkansas House and Senate Monday night that the people would welcome expedient approval of his special session program and that, with hard work, the legislature could finish its work in a week. Bumpers told the legislators that his program "seized on dramatic new opportunities" to the state, most of them arising from the effort to obtain additional federal funds so Arkansas can expand services for the mentally and physically handicapped.

The governor said that if the legislature approved the program drafted by Dr. Roger Bost, director of the Department of Social and Rehabilitative Services, the state would obtain an additional $26 million in federal funds in the next 18 months and save about $2 million in state money already appropriated.

He said all the special session programs proposed by him might not cost an extra dollar of state money because of savings generated by Bost's proposal to take advantage of funds available under the Social Security Act for the mentally retarded, mentally ill, blind, disabled, aged and juvenile delinquents.

The governor said he summoned the special session not only to take advantage of new opportunities, but also because of "new necessities" and the need to correct "some rather routine errors and omissions which could not be foreseen."

Most of the opening day of the special session was given over to routine first and second readings of each of the 63 administration bills that were introduced simultaneously in each house.

Both houses also recessed during the afternoon so legislators could attend the funeral of Rep. and Mrs. Leon Holsted of North Little Rock, who were found shot to death Saturday in his drug store in what authorities said was murder-suicide by the wife.

Task Force Is Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — As promised, Gov. Dale Bumpers named a task force of three whites and three blacks Monday to mediate racial troubles at Marianna.

An aide to Bumpers, Archie Schaffer III, said the task force would probably not be able to go to Marianna until Wednesday. He said he would contact the sixth to determine their plans.

The governor said last week that he would name the task force if representatives of whites and blacks in Marianna agreed to mediation.

Named to the committee were C. E. Hynes, a Pine Bluff city alderman and a member of the faculty of Arkansas AM&N College; Mrs. Jacques Peterson, a Monticello housewife; Bill Bowen of Little Rock, president of Commercial National Bank; Mrs. Corliss Howard of Conway, an employee of the state Employment Security Division; Harry Haines, editor of the Blytheville Courier News and a member of the state Board of Education; and Dr. Roosevelt Brown, a Little Rock dentist.

Hynes, Mrs. Howard and Brown are black.

Buffalo Park Bill Passed in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Buffalo River came a step closer Monday to being named a national park—a bill which would make it a park passed on a voice vote in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"I am delighted with the speedy action and I anticipate differences with the Senate version will soon be resolved and the President will sign the bill into law," said Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., author of the bill.

The bill authorizes 132 miles of the Buffalo for public use. The area includes 95,700 acres.

The measure includes an authorized appropriation of $16 million for land acquisition. President Nixon's budget included $4 million for such land acquisition.

The bill passed by the House also includes an authorized appropriation of $9 million for development of the area during a five-year period.

Nixon-Thieu Rift on Policy Cited

SAIGON (AP) — A rift was reported today between President Nguyen Van Thieu and the Nixon administration over political aspects of President Nixon's new peace proposals. Thieu sent word to Washington that South Vietnam's political figure must be negotiated by Saigon and not by the United States.

High-level diplomatic sources said Thieu was angered by Secretary of State William P. Rogers' statement that the U.S.

government is "flexible" on the provision of Nixon's eight-point peace proposal calling for Thieu's resignation one month before a new presidential election.

Nixon's plan does not rule out Thieu as a candidate in the election, and observers in Saigon say the longer the time between his resignation and the voting, the more his political strength would weaken.

Sources said Thieu ordered his ambassador to the United States, Bui Diem, to consult the State Department about the exact meaning of Rogers' statements at a Washington news conference last Thursday and whether the secretary's remarks indicated a lessening of the Nixon administration's support for Thieu.

Orders from Thieu also went out to his chief negotiator at the Paris peace talks, Pham Dang Lam. Sources said he was directed to tell the U.S. delegation chief, Ambassador William J. Porter, that any proposals for a political settlement must be presented by Saigon rather than Washington.

In Washington, the State Department declined to comment for the time being.

Under Nixon's eight-point peace plan submitted to the North Vietnamese in Paris last October, the chairman of the Senate would head a provisional caretaker government for the month between Thieu's resignation and the presidential election.

A revised Viet Cong peace plan, backed by North Vietnam, calls for Thieu's immediate resignation and negotiations to set up a coalition government including the Communists which would hold elections for a constitutional convention.

Rogers was asked at the news conference whether the United States is flexible on the composition of a caretaker government and on the length of time that Thieu would resign prior to the election.

"Yes, we are," he replied, "and I think those are considerations that if the other side was interested in negotiating in good faith, they could raise."

Panels Differ on Dock Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate panels have approved different bills aimed at ending the West Coast dock strike, with congressional leaders pushing to enact a plan before the week is out.

The Senate Labor Committee Monday endorsed a strike-end plan making only a slight change in the method of naming arbitrators. And in the House, a labor subcommittee has written a weaker bill that would authorize a 60-day partial injunction against striking.

The Senate bill calls for compulsory arbitration for 40 days, with all issues, including those already agreed upon, open to negotiation. The decision reached would be binding for at least 18 months.

The Senate plan may be ready for action by the full Senate this afternoon, according to Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., chairman of the Labor Committee. The other bill was expected before the House Labor Committee today.

Leaders in both houses are pressing to legislate an end to the strike before a Lincoln Day recess starts after Wednesday's session.

Working in a long afternoon meeting Monday, the Senate committee finally agreed on a bill after changing the arbitrator-selection method.

Gillham Dam Foes Object to Briefs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Those opposing the building of Gillham Dam on the Cossatot River charged in a brief filed Monday in federal court that the environmental impact statement filed by the U.S. Corps of Engineers did not meet requirements.

Richard Arnold of Texarkana, lawyer for a group of environmentalists opposing the dam, filed a brief objecting to the Corps statement, which was filed last month.

Arnold's brief said that the engineers had not filed an impact statement which would conform to provisions of the national Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

The brief asserts that the engineers' statement was a "brief designed to justify a decision already taken."

Arnold said the engineers "clearly never seriously considered the course of action except completion of the dam."

About $10 million has been spent on the project, but federal Judge G. Thomas Eisele ruled last year that the Corps of Engineers had not fulfilled all the requirements of the 1969 act in that they had not done a sufficient impact study.

The study is supposed to show what effect the proposed dam would have on wildlife and nature in the area.

Arnold's brief said that the engineers had played down several objects to the project and contained errors.

Draftees Given a Reprieve

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 11,000 young men who have received induction notices but haven't yet reported for duty were given a reprieve today by Selective Service Director Curtis W. Tarr.

Tarr instructed local draft boards to place the men who had received the draft orders, as well as 115,000 members of the 1972 Extended Priority Selection Group, into the less vulnerable Second Priority Selection Group.

The action means they won't be drafted unless there is a national emergency.

Wants Charges by Aide on Peace Plan Confirmed

By MICHAEL J. PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien says presidential assistant H.R. Haldeman should document his charges against critics of President Nixon's peace proposals or retract his statement and issue a public apology.

Haldeman Monday accused critics of the administration's peace negotiations of "consciously aiding and abetting the enemy of the United States."

Meanwhile, O'Brien's Republican counterpart, Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas, said presidential candidates "have a special obligation to put the nation's interests ahead of their party's or their own" in dealing with the war issue.

He said front-running Democrat Edmund S. Muskie's criticism of Nixon's latest proposals "might well have the effect of prolonging this unhappy war" by indicating the enemy might get a better deal from Muskie than from the incumbent Nixon.

These were the newest ingredients tossed into a political stew that has been brewing for a week. It started when Muskie called Nixon's latest peace plan a retreat of proposals that have failed for six years "to win at the conference table what we have not won and cannot win on the battlefield."

The senator from Maine said the only way out of the war is for the United States to set a fixed withdrawal date and urge the Saigon government to move toward a political agreement "before further erosion in our troop strength and our bargaining position frustrates any chance to exchange American military disengagement for American prisoners in the North."

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Haldeman's remarks on the NBC

"Today" show were personal opinions and that Haldeman was not speaking for Nixon.

But O'Brien said, "I simply cannot accept the suggestion by the White House press secretary that Mr. Haldeman—the President's chief of staff—was expressing only his personal opinion . . .

"President Nixon should instruct Haldeman either to name those who he accuses and document his charges—or to retract the statement and issue a public apology."

Muskie had no immediate comment, but another Democratic presidential hopeful, Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, called Haldeman's claim complete nonsense.

"The administration would do well to drop Red-baiting rhetoric of that kind and start giving aid and comfort to the American people by ending our involvement in this senseless war," McGovern said.

Environmental Plan Goes to Congress

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon sent Congress a special environmental message today proposing half a dozen new legislative measures including a tax on air-polluting sulfur emissions.

Other proposals made by the President would:

- Ask the United Nations to establish a special environment fund, which would reach $100 million over five years and the United States would support with a fair share of the funding.
- Encourage states to start controlling the location of highways and airports by 1975 or else start losing federal aid for such projects.
- Discourage construction on the dwindling lands bordering lakes, rivers and oceans by restricting tax advantages.
- Control the land-disposal of toxic wastes through state regulation under federal guidelines.
- Control soil runoff from construction projects, again through federal guidelines and state regulation.
- Make it a federal offense subject to criminal penalties for the first time to harm animals listed as endangered species, and extend legal protection to species headed for the endangered list.

At the same time, Nixon announced a complete ban on the use of all poisons to control predatory animals on federal land. Poisons have been used by livestock grazers on federal lands, especially to control coyotes which attack sheep.

In other executive actions, Nixon said he has ordered the development of occupational health standards to protect farm workers from pesticide poisoning, and has ordered the preparation of new insulation standards for federally aided multiple dwellings to conserve energy.

He added that federal tax policy is being "clarified" concerning tax exemption for the financing—by industry—of facilities to recycle industrial wastes.

Nixon reminded Congress that 18 of his 20 major environmental legislative proposals last year are still awaiting action.

"Last year," he said, "was, quite properly, a year of consideration of these measures by the Congress."

"I urge, however, that this be a year of action on all of them, so that we can move on from intention to accomplishment in the important needs they address."

The President also urged creation of a new Department of Natural Resources centered on the present Interior Department, a proposal Nixon made last year along with a proposed realignment of the executive branch.

The reduction of sulfur oxides, the aim of the new sulfur tax proposal, is already one of the chief goals of the national air quality standards set by the Environmental Protection Agency under the 1970 Clean Air Act.

Meals for Elderly Passes in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill setting up a pilot program to give free or low-cost meals to needy persons 60 years of age or older.

The plan would allocate $100 million for fiscal 1973 programs and $150 million for fiscal 1974 distribution. The money would be given to states operating programs approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The grants would be based on population statistics.

The House bill, passed Monday on a 350-23 vote, is similar to one already approved in the Senate.

Persons asking for meals would have to show need, paying whatever amount is determined according to state standards of ability to pay.

States awarding contracts to public or private nonprofit institutions would have to give preference to low-income individuals.

Projects selected for grants would be required to locate near high concentrations of elderly and provide such services as health and welfare counseling, recreational activities, home-delivered meals where appropriate for persons unable to leave their homes, and informational services not otherwise available.

The projects also would have to provide at least one hot meal a day and each meal would have to contain at least one-third of the daily recommended dietary allowance.

Film on Steel Shown

HAROLD EAKLEY

The Hope Rotary Club learned about the production of steel when a film was shown at the luncheon meeting in the Town and Country on Friday, February 4. Rotarian Harold Eakley of Hope Wire Products showed the film which was produced by Disney Studios.

Narration by human speakers and Donald Duck answered the question, "What is Steel?" They also explained how iron is created in the earth and then turned into steel by man and the various methods of making steel. These ranged from the early iron works from which Valley Forge, Pa., got its name to the modern day factories that mold the "red hot toothpaste" of steel into varied products.

In contrast to what many people believe, the safety factor among steelworkers is stressed, and they are probably in more danger at home than at work. What does the future hold for this important industry? No one can tell the extent of advancement that will be reached, but there is every indication that steel will continue to grow in importance.

Dr. Sam W. Strong, president, was in charge of the club meeting and called a short meeting of the board after the program

East Half of Nation in Freezer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Most of the eastern half of the nation remained in the freezer today.

A cold air mass centered in the Great Lakes region lowered temperatures as far south as the western Gulf Coast and pushed a cold wave through the Northeast and the Middle Atlantic States.

Temperatures in parts of North Dakota and Minnesota failed to rise above zero all day Monday.

The West, however, had generally pleasant weather, with readings in the 60s and 70s in the arid Southwest and in the 40s over much of the rest of the nation's western half.

Aside from a few light showers in the Pacific Northwest, precipitation was confined to scattered flurries and snow squalls in the upper Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 16 below zero at Marquette County Airport, Mich., to 71 at Key West, Fla.

Election Plan Clears

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House approved without discussion today Gov. Dale Bumpers' bill to change the primary election dates and let the political parties choose their own methods of selecting delegates to the national conventions.

The bill cleared the house 88-1 with Rep. George Davis of Horatio casting the lone vote in opposition.

Although there was no debate on the bill itself, a flap occurred when Rep. George Nowotny Jr. of Fort Smith, a Republican sought to give notice of reconsideration of the measure, a parliamentary move that normally could tie up the bill for up to three days.

But Speaker Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs ruled that in the special session all notices of reconsideration would have to be considered immediately. The House refused on a vote of 26-59

Legalized Abortion Approved by ABA

By MIKE DUFFY
Associated Press Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The American Bar Association has given approval to proposed legislation to legalize abortion, but it refused to endorse liberalized divorce laws which could deprive lawyers of a large portion of their business.

The National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws drew up the proposed legislation on abortion and sought the ABA's support in its drive to have state legislatures throughout the country adopt the proposal, which would permit abortion on demand up to 20 weeks of pregnancy.

The ABA's House of Delegates approved it without a word of protest Monday, but later a handful of delegates stipulated that they wanted to be recorded as voting against the measure.

AM&N Issue Bypassed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Monday night that he did not include the issue of merging Arkansas AM&N College into the University of Arkansas in his call for the special legislative session because the matter was controversial.

But he said the merger plan to be worked out between representatives of both institutions should alleviate most aspects that "appear" to be controversial.

Bumpers spoke to a joint session of the legislature in defense of his decision several hours after a group of blacks met on the Capitol steps to urge the General Assembly to repeal the merger.

In a statement ready by the Rev. John C. Collins of Pine Bluff, the group asked the General Assembly to "restore AM&N to its original purpose and mission—that of being the means through which the poor classes of people may have access to higher education."

The 1971 legislature authorized the merger of the predominantly black institution into the university July 1, and blacks are hopeful the matter will be reconsidered by the special session although Bumpers did not include it in the call.

Bumpers told the legislature that since no merger plan had not yet been developed by representatives of the schools, the "limits of the controversy" could not be defined.

He called for immediate discussions to begin between the schools with an objective "to identify the advantages and avoid the disadvantages of a merger."

Bumpers said the historical mission of AM&N to educate culturally, socially and economically deprived students remains inviolate.

The governor said the merger plan must contain safeguards requested last year by AM&N supporters. He said they include provisions that AM&N continue to offer programs for disadvantaged, that the majority of the AM&N board be alumni and that tenure and academic rank of the faculty be protected.

He reiterated his pledge to appoint a black to the board of the University of Arkansas next month when a vacancy occurs.

Temperatures in Arkansas are on the upswing.

Monday night was cold but clear skies were expected to allow maximum sunshine today. The warming trend is expected to continue Wednesday.

Missing Man in N. Mexico

POTEAU, Okla. (AP) — A county official believes former county School Superintendent John Kitchens, missing since Dec. 6, may be in Mexico.

Perry G. Babb, Le Flore County clerk, based his assumption on the fact that he has received gasoline credit card receipts from various points in Texas and that Kitchens was familiar with Mexico.

"I kind of figure he went across the border to Mexico," Babb said Monday. "He had talked to me about Mexico. He was stationed near there when he was in the service and went into Mexico some."

Kitchens has been charged with flight to avoid prosecution since his disappearance. The charges followed the disclosure of a shortage in county school funds totaling more than $4,000.

Babb said credit card receipts for gasoline purchases made on Kitchens' personal account have been received from Temple, Wichita Falls and Austin.

Tax Reform Is Linked to Debt-Ceiling Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — A multistage campaign to deny President Nixon a debt-ceiling increase unless he backs tax reform opens today in the House.

The initial skirmish—which the tax reformers expect to lose—will be before the House Rules Committee, which is considering legislation to increase the limit on Treasury borrowing from $430 billion to $450 billion.

Nixon asked for a $50-billion increase, but the House Ways and Means Committee cut the figure to $20 billion to make sure the administration would have to come back for another financial accounting before the November election.

Speaking for a group of liberal Democrats pushing the tax-reform issue, Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., has reserved time before the Rules Committee to argue that it send the bill to the House floor Wednesday under procedures allowing him and his allies to offer an amendment.

Their proposed addition would require Nixon to submit a comprehensive income tax reform plan by May 1.

The reform proponents expect the committee to turn them down and send the bill to the House with a no-amendment rule.

They will try to defeat this expected procedural ruling, arguing that a vote against it is a vote for tax reform.

If they lose again, they will try to defeat the bill itself. Reuss said he thinks Nixon would agree in such a case to sponsor tax reforms.

New Trial in Prison Baby Case

Murray O. Reed of Little Rock. In that hearing, the court appointed a guardian for the baby.

The record shows that about three months after her son was born, Mrs. Shappy consented to his being made a ward of the juvenile authorities and placed in the custody of Janet Knight, director of the Child Welfare Division of the state Welfare Department.

Several months later a guardianship proceeding was instituted for adoption purposes and notice was given to the prison superintendent, who checked with Mrs. Shappy and communicated her disapproval to the Welfare Department.

Mrs. Shappy testified that the superintendent told her the adoption of the child was not the issue in the legal proceeding. She said she understood her baby would be placed in a foster home until she was released from prison.

Mrs. Knight also testified that she did not think Mrs. Shappy ever fully understood that adoption had occurred.

The court said Mrs. Shappy was "entitled to her day in court on this issue of guardianship, even though relitigation could reach the same result."

Rules Murder and Suicide

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pros. Atty. James Guy Tucker said Monday that evidence showed that Frankie Holsted shot and killed her husband, Rep. Leon Holsted of North Little Rock, and then turned the gun on herself.

The shootings occurred Saturday morning in the couple's drug store in North Little Rock. Tucker made the ruling after reviewing evidence with North Little Rock police, State Police and representatives of the state medical examiner's office.

Holsted, 44, was serving his fourth term in the House and had indicated he would run for the Senate this year. His wife, the former Frankie Warden, was also 44.

Poor Marriage Risks

DEAR HELEN:
Several years ago you published lists of "poor risk" qualities for people in love to watch for in prospective mates. Would you please reprint them? —FACING A DECISION

DEAR FAD:
Be glad—to inasmuch as we've had hundreds of requests for copies of these two columns from both males and females. Of course, it's easier to say, "Choose a man who is dependable, considerate, loving, kind, conscientious, etc., etc." but here are clues to the poor marriage risks. Beware of the fellow who—

2. Brownbeats waitresses—or pinches them.
3. Is habitually late. (And if he's constantly, never-endingly early, he's hard to live with, too!)

Grandmothers Work Computers

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Writer

GENEVA, Ill. (AP) — Four grandmothers, all veteran city employees, have happily made the transition from punching typewriters to operating a computer.

And through their work they are an integral part of a stronger bond between the neighboring cities of Geneva and Batavia, on the Fox River west of Chicago.

The cities, each with a population around 9,000—a 20 per cent rise in the last 10 years—decided recently to join in leasing a computer for $1,600 a month to handle an increased load of financial billings.

The computer was set up in a room at the refurbished Geneva city office building.

And hovering over the computer are the four grandmothers, 64-year-old Margaret Zollers, 54-year-old Amy Yeane and a pair of 65-year-olds, Marion Moline and Arleen Huntley.

"We like the speed of it," says Mrs. Zollers, who has done office work for the Batavia city government for 20 years. "It gives us a new outlook on the modern age."

1. Has nothing—but NOTHING—good to say about her family.
2. Orders the most expensive dinner on the menu and then leaves half of it.

3. On picnics, won't go swimming because she might ruin her hair-do or makeup. Worse yet, won't go on a picnic.
4. Makes fun of your friends.
5. Thinks all your former girl friends are creeps and otherwise lets jealousy sharpen her claws.

6. Wants things her way or not at all.
7. Figures she can win any argument with a tear.
8. Considers herself a sex symbol—or YOU a male chauvinist (when you're doing what comes naturally.)

9. Can't understand your jokes. Can't even laugh at herself.
10. Is catty about her friends.
11. Bore you (when she switches to conversation).
12. Doesn't know what's happening in the world and cares less.

13. Puts you down, or finds constant fault.
14. Can't talk intelligently about anything but clothes or herself. (This is intelligence?)
15. Would be lost without her mirror and brush. (We mean LOST, not just inconvenienced.)

16. Thinks your time is HER time—Every minute of it.
17. Hates Sports (if you like them) or loves sports (if you hate them.)
18. At a party, either sticks to

19. Goes for "high society—Either kind."
20. Drinks too much. (A good indication that she might, someday: Does she only begin to sparkle after the second shot?)

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — With television frantically searching for entertainment material, circus programs turn up frequently and, for the average viewer, they tend to look very much alike.

That certainly seemed true Monday night with ABC's hour special showing highlights of the Budapest circus. At least it was true up to the point when a trained hippopotamus trotted out, set off a toy cannon and played dead.

The rest of the acts included the usual lion tamer without shirt, animals, clowns and the like plus a television addition: the TV star. In this case, there were two, Bill Bixby and Brandon Cruz, who plays Bixby's son in "The Courtship of Eddie's Father." Young Brandon was shown gazing entranced at the ring and Bixby permitted himself to be shaved by an elephant.

Circus specials attract audiences of decent if not overwhelming size. Since most are filmed or taped in ready-made auditoriums, they are comparatively inexpensive.

When "The Goldiggers" turned out a series of programs in England and filled in for NBC's "Dean Martin Show" two summers ago, they acquired some comedy help from a British funnyman named Marty Feldman.

Feldman, a little guy with pop eyes, a Cockney accent and a penchant for weird costumes, attracted considerable favorable attention from the hot weather audiences. Later an ABC deal for a Marty Feldman series was announced. A long silence followed.

Monday night ABC broadcast "The Marty Feldman Comedy Machine," a half-hour which bore all the earmarks of a pilot film, apparently for a series that was abandoned somewhere along the line.

The pilot was a strange, inconclusive jumble that seemed to be distantly related to "Laugh-In" but was devoid of comedy. There were many sight gags, such as a fountain

There were some sketches that didn't get off the ground—a man who had seen so many poorly dubbed foreign films that his speech was out of synchronization. There was an awful one about an instant beard-growing contest.

Feldman was completely wasted, but the broadcast does explain the long silence about the Marty Feldman series.

Hope Girls Fall to Ashdown Jinx

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

That Ashdown jinx is still around and the Hope Ladycats just can't seem to get rid of it, dropping their third straight game with the Pantherettes this year.

Moving into the second period of play with a one point lead, the Ladycats hit a week second quarter total of four points which certainly had to be the turning point of the game, and Ashdown capitalized for a slim 49-44 final victory.

Lowering their record to a final 12-10 mark for regular season play, the Ladycats now begin preparations for the senior girls district 7A tournament to be held in Jones Field House next week.

It only took 16 seconds for Hope to score after the tipoff as Janet McCain flipped one through the hoop with 6:44 left to play to give the Ladycats a quick 2-0 lead. However, Hope could only get one field goal in the next three minutes, before McCain hit from the top of the circle with 3:44 left to keep the score close.

With Hope now trailing, the scoring was almost even, but with 29 seconds left in the first frame, McCain pushed one in from out of a crowd and Dee Singleton popped the netstrings from outside to move the Ladycats out in front, 14-13, while heading for the second period tipoff.

Getting a field goal by McCain with 5:58 showing and another one with 3:53 left by Singleton were the only points the Ladycats could muster in the second stanza. It seemed that the Hope team couldn't have bought a two pointer during the period as they were outscored, 13-4, and trailed at halftime, 26-18.

Valiantly trying to comeback and regain the lead in the third period, the Ladycats couldn't make any headway as the goals by McCain, Singleton, and Gigi Gladney were matched point for point to leave the margin of difference at eight points while preparing for the final period, the score at 39-31, Ashdown in command.

Outscoring the Pantherettes, 5-4, in the first two minutes, Hope regained one point and trailed, 43-36 with 4:30 left in the final quarter of play. Now matching any points scored, Ashdown suddenly hit four straight foul shots to take a 49-40 margin with 1:01 left in the game, and only Hope scored the rest of the way with Singleton hitting two jumpshots, but it wasn't quite enough.

Singleton led the Ladycat attack with 21 points while McCain contributed 18, and Gladney added five more.

With the Kittycats originally scheduled to play and having to cancel out to play in the district tournament at Gurdon, a B-girls game was scheduled and this one was claimed by the Hope Ladycat B-team, 31-25, after taking an early lead.

Using quick shots by Carol Hobson and Bonnie Willis, the B-Ladycats took a good lead and went on to a 12-6 margin while heading into the second segment of play with some long shots paving the way.

Cold shooting by both teams left Hope with a 17-10 halftime margin after the Ladycats outscored the Ashdown six, 5-4, in the second frame, on two field goals by Hobson and a charity shot by Willis.

Again Hope drew first blood as Willis connected on a two pointer and Dorothy Stevenson hit a free throw. Three points by Hobson at the close of the period fixed the score at 23-14, the B-Ladycats in front while moving into the final stanza.

Now Ashdown began to find the range a little more and closed the gap to three points, 25-22, with 3:42 left in the game, but with Betty Rodden pushing in three straight layups the game was soon put away.

Hobson led Hope with 11 points, followed by Willis with nine, Rodden getting eight, and Stevenson contributing three.

Tonight the Bobcats, B-Brunns, and Bobkittens all entertain Magnolia in three games starting at 5:30 in Jones Field House. All games are district contests.

Ouachita Upset 61-49

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern State turned the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball race back into a contest Monday night with a stunning 61-49 upset of Ouachita at Magnolia.

The victory gave the Muleriders an 11-3 conference record and left Ouachita, which at one time seemed to have the title wrapped up, at an overhauled 12-2 mark.

Southern's performance took some of the shine off two thrilling games that meant less in the league standings. Arkansas AM&N kept its title hopes alive with a 110-102 victory over University of Arkansas-Monticello at Monticello, and Harding pulled out an 85-84 verdict over State College of Arkansas in one overtime at Conway.

AM&N's victory left the Golden Lions at 9-5 in the league, a level shared by Arkansas Tech after the Wonder Boys were upset by Arkansas College 87-83 at Batesville.

Henderson held third place with an 85-75 romp over College of the Ozarks at Arkadelphia.

Ouachita's two big scoring guns failed to fire and Southern State got a 23-point effort from Al Flanigan to write the story at Magnolia. Tommy Patterson and James Hamilton, who had been averaging 24 points each per game, got 10 and 7, respectively, for Ouachita.

Ouachita could have sewed up the title with two victories this week.

Steve Kent scored the winning basket for Harding in overtime. Bill Chisom, Harding's leading scorer with 17, scored to tie the game as regular time ran out. T. J. Johnson and John Hutchcraft each scored 21 for Harding.

The score was tied 19 times at Monticello before AM&N ran away in the third overtime.

Duquesne Wins Without a Bench

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duquesne's basketball team has no bench. Literally.

The 20th-ranked Dukes have dwindled to seven iron players after the loss of their No. 6 man.

"This team seems to be able to adjust to anything," said Coach Red Manning after Monday night's 72-66 victory over Murray State of Kentucky.

Yes, but this is ridiculous. The team from Pittsburgh, which has been trying to adjust all season to player departures, was hit again Monday when top reserve Dave Roddy was declared ineligible.

The Eastern College Athletic Conference said that Roddy had violated conference rules by playing in his fourth varsity season, three years at Duquesne and half a season at Miami, Fla. in 1968-9. Under current regulations, a player is only allowed three seasons.

The loss of a player is nothing new to Manning. He started with 14 before opening day and a series of problems dropped the number steadily down. Despite the mini squad, Duquesne has compiled a fancy 15-2 record.

In other games Monday night, third-ranked North Carolina clobbered North Carolina State 101-78; No. 6 Virginia pounded Virginia Tech 107-85; ninth-rated South Carolina whipped DePaul 91-67; No. 13 Southwestern Louisiana beat Eastern New Mexico 75-64; No. 14 Florida State clouted South Alabama 104-81 and 17th-ranked Missouri defeated Iowa State 77-72.

Lionel Billings, Duquesne's leading scorer, led three mates in double figures with 21 points. Ruben Montanez had 16 points and Mike Barr got 15.

Manning accounted for his lack of depth with a three-pronged defensive system—a 2-2-1 zone press, a zone and a man-to-man. The varied style forced 20 Murray State turnovers in the first half and Duquesne had a runaway 41-20 lead.

Robert McAdoo got 31 points for North Carolina, the most any Tar Heel player has scored this year with its perfectly-balanced offense.

Al Drummond's two field goals ignited a 9-1 spurt that helped pull Virginia out of trouble. Kevin Joyce scored 21 points as South Carolina seized the 39th career victory for Coach Frank McGuire; Dwight Lamar poured in 29 points for Southwestern Louisiana; Ron King scored 23 points for Florida State and Greg Flaker fired in 23 to help Missouri win and move closer to a Big Eight championship.

Hope to Host District 7A Sr. Girls Tourney

For the first time in several years, a basketball tournament will be held in Hope. The 7A District Senior Girls Tournament will take place in Jones Field House on the Hope High campus February 14-19, with 11 teams scheduled to compete for the right to represent the district at the state tournament.

This is the first time ever that

Hope has hosted the Senior girls tourney, but possibly a very good year to select as the Hope High Ladycats will be one of the top contenders.

Games will be played on the nights of February 14, 16, 17, 18, and 19, with two games played each night beginning at 6:30 p.m. except for Monday the 14th, when three games will be played beginning at 5:30 p.m., and Saturday the 19th, when only one game, the final, will be played at 7:30 p.m., according to coach Willie Tate, tournament director.

Seven-A is one of the most balanced districts in the state for girls' basketball, with five or six teams all possibilities for the first place trophy.

The Hope Ladycats will spend the rest of this week in preparation for the tourney after completing the regular season schedule on Monday, February 7, according to Mrs. Charlotte Gibson, coach.

The Ladycats have a 12-10 mark for the regular season, and their first tournament game will be February 16, at 7:30 p.m. with the winner of the Bradley-Foreman game.

Parkview Rated Tops

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock Parkview, with a little help from Fort Smith Northside, has taken over the No. 1 spot in The Associated Press high school basketball poll.

Parkview, 18-2 for the season, edged Little Rock Central for the top position by two points in the balloting by a panel of sportswriters and sportscasters. Parkview had five first place votes and Central four.

Central was a solid choice for No. 1 last week, but lost votes after dropping a 57-53 decision to Northside. Central, 17-2 for the season, split with Parkview earlier in the year.

Blytheville continues in the No. 3 spot followed by Fayetteville, Subiaco, Stuttgart, Stephens, Little Rock Hall, Jonesboro westside and Desha Central.

Blytheville and Fayetteville received one first place vote each.

Fayetteville, ranked fifth last week, swapped places with Subiaco, ranked fourth last week.

Local Junior Girls Beat Stamps 39-22

By ALAN FOSTER
Star Sports Writer

Last night in the first round of the District Tourney the Hope Kitty Cats advanced to the second round by walking away from Stamps by a score of 39-22.

The first quarter was hard fought as both sets of guards played superb basketball and the forwards managed to put a total of 21 points on the board as the score read Hope 11, Stamps 10.

The Kitty Cat forwards got going in the second to give Hope a comfortable lead as the guards played rough also and Hope led 24-15 at intermission.

The third quarter was slightly low scoring as the teams got five points apiece and Hope led 29-20 at the buzzer.

The finale wasn't too interesting either as the Kitty Cats already had it put away and had their fifteenth win at Hope 39, Stamps 28.

Shirley Gail East led Hope with 17 points, followed by Kathy Gene Griffin with 16 and Rebecca Susan Henley had six. Also guards, Janie Mae York, Bonnie Irene Roy, and Melissa Gay Reese are to be complimented on a superb performance on defense.

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — Switzerland's Marie-Therese Nadig overcame a blinding snowstorm Tuesday to become only the second woman to capture a pair of gold medals in Olympic Alpine skiing history.

Now comes the United States, with even tougher obstacles facing it in two events at these 11th Winter Olympic Games as Jo Jo Starbuck and Ken Shelley of Downey, Calif., try to dazzle their way from fourth place into medal contention in the pairs figure skating Tuesday night and the surprising U.S. hockey team tries to muscle its way past the defending champion Soviet Union Wednesday.

Miss Nadig, the 17-year-old Cinderella Girl of the Games, shrugged off the storm that forced postponement of the biathlon and blazed down the giant slalom's 1,240-meter course on Mt. Teine in 1 minute 29.09 seconds to win her second gold, beating Austria's Annemarie Proell as she had in the downhill.

"The visibility was especially poor in the steep part of the track," Miss Nadig said. That was understating matters. Skiers said the snowfall was so heavy they couldn't see some of the 51 gates until they were within several hundred feet of them—and many in the crowd said they couldn't see some of the skiers along the course.

Miss Proell was timed in 1:30.75 and Wiltrud Drexel, also from Austria, took the bronze with 1:32.15.

Miss Nadig, who covered the treacherous run flawlessly, matched the double-gold feat achieved by Andrea Mead Lawrence of the United States, who won her two in the 1962 Games' slalom and giant slalom.

And she has an opportunity to become the first female triple winner Friday in the slalom—but it seems remote.

"I have had quite a number of tumbles in the slalom, so I don't know," Miss Nadig said of her chances of winning again. She is not rated in the top-seeded group.

Miss Proell, who had been beaten by less than half a second in the downhill and by less than two in the giant slalom, was the unhappiest two-time silver medalist you could find.

She stood with her back to the course as Miss Nadig rocketed toward the finish line. Then, when the Swiss miss' time was announced, Miss Proell said: "It does not matter to me," but the forlorn look she wore said otherwise.

Even more distressed were the American girls. The best any of them could do was the 11th-place finish in 1:33.16 by Barbara Cochran of Richmond, Va. Her sister, Marilyn, was 20th, Karen Budge of Jackson Hole, Wyo., was 23rd and Sandy Poulsen of Olympic Valley, Calif., was disqualified for missing a gate.

"I don't even want to talk about it," Karen said, summing up the feelings of the American girls. "I couldn't see one thing."

The American hockey team was sky-high as it prepared to take on the top-ranked Russians, who will be out to gain a revenge of sorts following the surprising 3-3 tie Sweden pulled out against them Monday.

A triumph by the fifth-ranked Yanks would all but assure them of a medal, their first since 1960 when they stunned the competition in Squaw Valley by grabbing the gold.

"The boys have really got their tails up now," U.S. Coach Murray Williamson said. "I've told them that if they can beat the Czechs 5-1 they can win against the Russians. But this is going to be a tough one ... the Russians always dominate us."

The Americans pulled off their upset against the second-ranked Czechs Monday night. "We had our lapses," Williamson said, "but we were saved by great goaltending." Netminder Mike Curran was the hero as he allowed just one goal in the Czechs' 52-shot fusillade.

The men's compulsory figure skating, to be completed Wednesday, found Czech world champion Ondrej Nepela in the lead at the half after Tuesday night's competition, with Patrick Pera of France second and Sergei Tcheteroukhin of the Soviet Union third. "He never makes mistakes," Pera said of the 21-year-old leader. "I make mistakes."

Ken Shelley, who later returned to the ice with Jo Jo Starbuck for the pairs finals, was fourth, Harvard pre-med student John Mischa Petkevich of Great Falls, Mont., was sixth behind Great Britain's John Curry and Gordie McKellen Jr., of Lake Placid, N.Y., was 11th.

In Tuesday's only other competition, the Czechs rebounded with a 7-1 victory over Finland that put them atop the Class A hockey standings, a point ahead of Russia and Sweden.

Gibson Going to Fame Hall

NEW YORK (AP) — Josh Gibson, considered one of the best catchers in baseball history, was expected to be named to the Hall of Fame today in a special election by a committee on the Negro leagues.

Nine members of the committee will vote, with seven votes needed for election.

Any players elected will be inducted into the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y. on Aug. 7, along with Sandy Koufax, Yogi Berra, Early Wynn, Lefty Gomez, Ross Youngs and Will Harridge, who were elected earlier this year.

Last year, the committee elected ageless pitcher Leroy "Satchel" Paige.

The voting is limited to Negro athletes of the pre-1947 era who were prevented from playing major league baseball for 10 years because of the color ban that Jackie Robinson broke.

Normally, a player has to play 10 years in the majors to qualify. Gibson died at the age of 35 in 1947, a few months before Robinson became the first black player in major league history.

Although Gibson never had a chance to play in the majors, he had a legendary career in the old Negro leagues. Few reliable records were kept in the black leagues, but Gibson reportedly hit 623 home runs, including 84 in one year.

"Josh was the greatest hitter I ever pitched to, and I pitched to everybody," Paige has said. Included among the men he faced were such renowned sluggers as Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Stan Musial, Willie Mays and Mickey Mantle. "But none of them was as great as Josh," said Paige.

Still UCLA, Marquette

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The names and places may change elsewhere, but it's still UCLA and Marquette on top of the college basketball poll.

The nation's 1-2 teams from the early part of the year continue to ride high, wide and handsome, spreading the rest of the Top Twenty field.

UCLA made a sweep Monday of first-place votes from the nation's sports writers and broadcasters with 44 for a point total of 880. Marquette, with an identical 17-0 record as the Bruins, collected 784 points for No. 2.

After that, things just didn't look the same as last week.

North Carolina replaced Louisville as No. 3 while the Cardinals dropped to No. 4. Penn moved up a spot to No. 5, replacing Long Beach State, which skidded to No. 8. Also moving up this week were No. 6 Virginia and No. 7 Ohio State.

South Carolina dropped a spot to ninth while Brigham Young stayed No. 10 to round up the Top Ten.

Marshall remained No. 11, but the rest of the ranked clubs went through a shakeup and looked like this:

Providence, No. 12; Southwestern Louisiana, No. 13; Florida State, No. 14; Memphis State, No. 15; Jacksonville, No.

Mrs. King Was Smashed

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Billie Jean King wasn't just beaten, she was massacred. Chris Evert, teen-age darling of the "Net Set," saw the old pro was wavering and moved in for the kill.

"My game stunk from the start," said Mrs. King, who won $100,000 on the tennis courts last year. "She could tell it. Chris kept knocking the ball back, waiting for me to make the mistakes. And, baby, I made 'em."

The 17-year-old Miss Evert, the heroine of Forest Hills in 1971 despite getting smashed by Billie Jean in the semi-finals, got herself a rematch Monday and it was strictly no contest.

"Let's face it, Billie Jean was never in it," said the ponytailed cutie, who thrilled a hometown crowd of 3,500 in the finals of the $25,000 Women's International.

"After three games, I knew she was in deep trouble."

Chris methodically buried Mrs. King 6-1, 6-0 on a day of pure frustration for the 28-year-old Californian.

"I'm anxious to see what happens to her career after all this attention," said a frazzled-looking Billie Jean. "If she comes out on tour, she'll find out the facts of life."

Miss Evert cannot, according to tennis rules, become a pro prior to the year in which her 19th birthday falls. She will be 18 next December, opening the way for tour play in January 1973.

"I think I'll try it," Chris said of the pro circuit.

While 99 per cent of the turn-away throng cheered for the local favorite, a small knot of spectators kept yelling, "Go get her, Billie Jean."

Miss Evert knew the sounds. "Those were fellow tour players clapping for her. They stick together."

Chris' serve, a powder puff job at Forest Hills, had more zip this time, but Mrs. King said "I don't think her game has changed that much. Her serve still isn't that hot."

Miss Evert, yellow lace panties peeking from beneath her tennis skirt, recalled that her rise at Forest Hills was "rewarding since many people doubted I'd ever be good on grass courts."

Billie Jean came past and gave Chris an answer for such critics: "Tell 'em to stick it in their ear."

Since she is an amateur, Miss Evert has to pass up Monday's first place check of $4,400. It went back to the sponsors. Mrs. King picked up $3,000 as runner-up.

"I just couldn't believe I could play so terrible," said Billie Jean. "But, I'll be back. I'll reach my peak in June when the big events are here. I won't play as often this year."

She went "flat out ... from January to December ... last year to become the first woman athlete to win $100,000 in a year. I did it, big deal. Now I want to win Wimbledon where I played so terrible last time."

Chris Evert will be there, too.

Joke About Hollyfield

By DAN BERGER

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The kids on the UCLA campus are joking these days that Larry Hollyfield is the only college bench warmer who'll become a starter as a pro.

Even UCLA basketball Coach John Wooden admits that the muscular junior forward is "probably the greatest physical talent on the team" and says "when he gets himself under control, he's an outstanding prospect. And he's coming along very well."

Thus it's hard for Hollyfield, and the UCLA rooting section, to understand why he doesn't start. They feel the record speaks for itself.

Hollyfield is 6 feet 5, weighs 215 pounds and jumps with power and grace. He's built like a football fullback, shoots left-handed jump shots with deadly accuracy and has been compared with UCLA's recent All-American, Sidney Wicks. Wooden says the two are from the same mold.

And since he was a junior in high school, Hollyfield has played in only one losing basketball game, last year's UCLA defeat to Notre Dame, 89-82. His Compton High School team was sectional champ two years in a row and at Compton JC he averaged 22 points a game, helping win a state title and selection to the all-state team.

"Larry has tremendous ability," says Wooden, "but he hasn't really got it under control. He makes too many mistakes and doesn't play consistently. The reason he doesn't start is that I just don't know which Larry Hollyfield will show up when the game starts."

Wooden says the 20-year-old "needs more maturity," adding, "he's better for our team by coming off the bench because he gives us a big lift."

The crowd at Pauley Pavilion loves him, whether he's hitting a twisting under-handed scoop shot or throwing a behind-the-back pass out of bounds.

Saturday night, in 15 minutes of playing time, he hit three scintillating jump shots, leaped for a rooftop-high layin, connected on 6 of 7 shots from the floor for 14 points, grabbed four rebounds, had five assists and generated life into the Bruin attack. UCLA won the game 81-56 over rival Southern California.

"It's kind of discouraging not to start," said Hollyfield, "but I know that (Keith) Wilkes and (Larry) Farmer are going to start. They deserve to. But I'm a little happier now. I got a big kick out of starting the second half against USC."

Takes Battle to Bundage

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — Suzy Chaffee, a golden-haired crusader in ski pants, has descended on the 11th Winter Olympic Games to do battle with Avery Brundage and his International Olympic Committee.

"Brundage has been compromising world athletes for the last two decades," the statuesque, 25-year-old former U.S. Olympic skier from Rutland, Vt., said.

"I was forced to perjure myself by signing the oath in 1968 that I had obeyed all Olympic rules."

Suzy, now a globe-girdling model and designer, is here petitioning athletes, officials and newsmen to support her 10-point program to reconstruct and democratize the IOC.

"Look, this is my 'Outfox Brundage' coat," she said, displaying a rug-like cape of rich South American fur.

She was a member of the U.S. women's Alpine team in 1968 at Grenoble. Her brother, Rick, is captain of the current men's team. She carries with her a portfolio of Olympic history, papers and petitions which she plans to distribute this final week of the games to all delegations.

"I am serious—this is a crusade for me, as well as for others," the 5-foot-8, 122-pound blonde, said. "In fact, I'd rather nobody take my picture lest my movies be misunderstood."

Suzy said her purpose is to collect signatures of all winter and summer athletes, influential people and newsmen and present the document to the IOC.

If the IOC fails to respond, there should be a boycott, she added.

"We should never have another fiasco such as the Karl Schranz case here last week," she said. "We must rid the Olympics of hypocrisy. We must give the athletes a voice in the Games. If people can't learn to play together, how can they ever learn to live together?"

Schranz was banned from the games because of commercialism. Here is the 10-point plan which Suzy says has the support of John B. Kelley, Jr., former Olympic sculler and now president of the U.S. Amateur Athletic Union, and Nicholas Kounovskiy, former Russian gymnast:

1. A universal definition for sports and athletes, eliminating the terms "amateur" and "professional."

2. Open competition, bringing back the highest standard of athletic excellence.

3. A more democratic IOC organization, with athletes having one third of the voting power.

4. Political neutrality. The IOC should not interfere with the internal affairs of any nation, whether it be Communist Russia or apartheid South Africa.

5. Sports financing. Private citizens, industry and government be encouraged to play a more active part in funding Olympic efforts, thus furthering international peace.

6. Foster international good will through exchange of athletes.

7. The athletes and Olympic committees work more closely with local socio-athletic programs, such as the Peace Corps and VISTA.

8. Cultural renaissance. New emphasis on music, science, culture.

9. Olympic awards. Original works of art instead of medals. Winners may not receive cash although bonuses are permitted in other competitions.

10. Revive the Greek translation of "Olympics" meaning "peace," starting with the 1976 Games, all participating nations call a cease fire on all wars and acts of aggression.

Letters To The Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Address letters to: Editor The Star, P.O. Box 648, Hope, Ark. 71801.

All letters must be signed, with address so you are identified to the newspaper staff, but if the character of the letter permits we will allow use of a pen-name in the publication, in which case you should add "Citizen," or some other word below your real name and address.

Pen-names are permitted when a letter deals only with issues. Direct attacks upon public officials, however, must bear the writer's name for publication.

Howard Hughes
Editor The Star: Howard Hughes has been a recluse for so many years it is not easy to date him.

Many readers will recall the trip he made to Las Vegas two or three years ago. He chartered a train from El Paso. This train, like any other passenger, was subject to safety rules of the railroad. It had to go into a side track for east-bound traffic and on one such occasion the delay ran into hours.

There was speculation at the time he was making or had made a vast investment in California or Nevada. The writer was more or less guessing. Also he was somewhat peeved that his train was delayed several hours when the Hughes train had pulled into a water tank switch and remained there; thus blocking all traffic.

And it was at this time that the writer learned the identity of the big man.

I add this as an afterthought. The last few months of 1969 and a part of 1970 I lived and worked in Oil City, La., a new oil boom town. On one occasion there came a Mr. Hughes to the "hotel" - boom town type.

He showed the new "roller bit" he had developed in his machine shop in Houston which outmoded the old fish-tail bit and made Hughes tool immensely wealthy. Howard has never been hungry for lack of funds.

This I add but can't substantiate it. Rupert Hughes, the writer, was an older brother of Howard.

Wants School Prom

Editor The Star: I am a sophomore at Hope High School. I would like to address the members of the School Board, Supt. James H. Jones and HHS Principal Bobby Whitmarsh.

"We have a great school in HHS, but the spirit is lacking. No respect is being shown to officials of the school. The cause that I and many of my friends believe is that the only thing we have to look forward to is graduation."

"Many of your former students don't know that the Prom, Senior 18, and election of class beauties have been abolished. Why? We don't get much of an answer. Please remember, school is for an education but school is also a preparation for life. Please consider our plea. Sincerely,

Governor Reconsiders

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers was reconsidering Monday his legislation to change primary election dates and let the political parties choose their own method of selecting delegates to the national conventions.

The Bumpers bill was introduced in both houses of the legislature, but the administration also had under study a new proposal drafted by Roger Mears of Little Rock, chairman of the Pulaski County Democratic Committee.

The governor said late Monday that he hoped to be "locked in" by this afternoon on what proposal to ask of the legislature.

Bumpers' bill, approved by the House Rules Committee without discussion, moves the first primaries from June 27 to nents remained quiet throughout.

West opened the king of hearts against South's normal four spade contract. East drops the deuce so West shifts to the king of diamonds. South takes that trick with the ace and draws trumps with three leads. East discards three hearts.

South decides to leave clubs alone and plays his queen of hearts. West rises with the ace and leads queen and another diamond. South ruffs and is forced to clubs.

The apparently correct play is to cash his ace: lead a second club and finesse dummy's jack. But remember that dog that didn't bark?

West didn't open the bidding and has already shown up with 12 high card points. He just can't hold the queen of clubs. Can he hold five clubs? Possible, but highly improbable. Hence the queen of clubs is not going to drop from the East hand.

What can South do? He gets to dummy with the last trump and plays the jack of clubs. If East ducks South lets it ride. If East covers South takes his ace, leads another club and finesesses against West's 10-spot.

Slashed Foreign Aid Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Calling it "below minimum acceptable levels," President Nixon has signed a $2.74-billion foreign-aid authorization bill—$1.5 billion less than what he wanted for the current fiscal year.

"Viewed against the vital national objectives which our foreign-assistance programs are designed to pursue, this act is a great disappointment," Nixon said as he signed it Monday.

The authorization bill is about $300 million below the level mentioned in separate House and Senate foreign-aid appropriation bills which, when setted in congressional conference, will actually provide the money for this year's foreign aid. Presumably, only $2.74 billion of the $3 billion mentioned in the appropriation bills could be spent.

The bill chops U.S. spending in the United Nations from 31.5 per cent of the total U.N. budget to 25 per cent. It also cuts off aid to the Greek military junta unless Nixon declares the money to be among the "overriding requirements" of U.S. security; limits aid to Cambodia to $341 million, and halts all $510 million for military credit sales on April 30 unless the President releases $2 billion authorized for domestic social programs by then.

The bill was passed after four months of wrangling during which legal authorization for foreign aid lapsed twice and was extended temporarily. The end product is a compromise between the Senate's desired reforms and last year's spending.

Much of the drawn-out debate on foreign aid was centered on attempts to tack onto the aid bill various amendments aimed at U.S. disengagement from Vietnam.

Enemy Ambush Truck Convoy

By HOLGER JENSEN
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces firing mortars and rocket grenades ambushed a U.S. truck convoy in central Vietnam today, but American helicopter gunships drove them off.

The U.S. Command said one American was wounded, a truck carrying fuel was destroyed and another truck was damaged. But the convoy was able to proceed to its destination, the central highlands capital of Pleiku Province.

A U.S. spokesman said the ambush occurred about 15 miles east of An Khe, in Binh Dinh Province, which is classified as the least secure in the country.

No enemy bodies were found after the engagement.

There were conflicting reports of another action on the outskirts of Pleiku City late Monday night in which five Viet Cong were killed.

The South Vietnamese air force said the five were sappers who used a cow to lead them through a minefield in an attempt to infiltrate the Pleiku Air Base. A communiqué said a mine blew up the cow 500 yards from the base perimeter, and base personnel killed the sappers.

South Vietnamese army spokesmen said their information indicated the five were members of a reconnaissance squad who were killed by the militiamen. Also in central South Vietnam, enemy gunners fired a 50-round mortar barrage into the headquarters of a government engineer battalion four miles west of Nha Trang, and eight soldiers were reported wounded.

Only scattered light action was reported elsewhere in the central highlands. U.S. B52 bombers flew three missions against enemy bunkers and suspected troop concentrations southwest of Kontum City.

The U.S. Navy announced the return of the aircraft carrier Hancock for her seventh combat tour in the Gulf of Tonkin, joining the carrier Coral Sea. She replaces the Enterprise, which is en route to Alameda, Calif., her home port.

Mutt's Income Under Probe

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Gazette said that a federal grand jury empaneled Monday apparently heard testimony concerning the income of State Sen. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway.

About 40 persons were called to testify, including John Norman Harkey of Batesville, a lawyer and former state insurance commissioner.

The newspaper said that most of those persons appearing before the jury refused to state the nature of the investigation, but some said they had been questioned about legal fees they had paid Jones or about other financial transactions with him.

Wins Masonic Contest

D.C. COLLINS STANDING
ROSCOE C. SMITH SEATED

Roscoe C. Smith is seated holding the trophy he won while representing his lodge, Metropolitan Lodge No. 146, in a district wide masonic quiz contest that covers six Texas Counties, including Dallas and Ft. Worth and over two thousand masons.

Roscoe, a 32 degree mason, was named outstanding mason of Texas after competing against and winning over six other masonic quiz teams. Motivated by Worshipful Master and Texas Grand Senior Warden D. C. Collins, in the picture above, and Judge Davis of Dallas, Roscoe was able to help his team win the masonic quiz contest for the last three years straight and won it this year single-handed.

Before leaving Texas to attend the University of Minnesota, Roscoe received the Community Leaders of America Award for recognition of past achievements and outstanding service to community and state. He will appear in this year's edition of Community Leaders of America, to be presented by the Editorial Board of Community Leaders of America. For information on this publication, see his father, George "Boots" Smith of the Hope Star.

While attending the University of Minnesota, Roscoe and family reside at 301 University Ave. S. E., Apt. No. 106, Minneapolis, Minnesota. He is on the staff of the Triple "T" program of the University of Minnesota, helped by the St. Paul School Dist. to write a planning proposal that has been submitted to the United States Office of Education for funding, and has accepted speaking engagements at the St. Cloud State College and a number of other organizations on Performance Contracting.

Roscoe has also been contacted by Charles Blaschke, President of Education Turnkey Systems of Washington, D.C., to be a Cost-Ed Consultant in the upper mid-west for his company.

Candidates Tire of Hearing These Over

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a candidate for a presidential nomination gets tired of hearing:

"You have to admit that it isn't exactly easy to make Phineas Techumseh Weatherall a household name to every voter in America."

"There's at least one advantage you have over all the other candidates. After all, you don't have a record of any kind for them to shoot holes through."

"If we could count on all our other contributors like we do your mother, we wouldn't have to worry where our money is to come from. She sent another $5 today."

"Remember, eat lots of cheese when we swing through Wisconsin. It's a big dairy state. No, I don't think you have to eat anything special in New Hampshire. I don't think the natives there eat much more than elk pork in winter anyway."

"Somehow you gotta ante up some money for the billboard people. What if they get mad and start painting signs on their billboards saying 'Phineas Weatherall doesn't pay his bills'?"

Another $5 came in from your mother. She says she made it selling homemade cookies door to door."

"One of the things we need most, Phineas, is to find a good dread disease you can announce that you've joined the forefront of the fight against. No candidate ever got anywhere unless the public recognized that he was fighting a dread disease."

"We've got to humanize you somehow, Phineas. How about us snapping a picture of you lying down taking a nap—and have the photo showing you have holes in both shoes, not just one?"

"Your mother sent in a check for $7.50 this time, Phineas. She's selling magazine subscriptions."

"The news is good and bad on the patriotic front. One out of three of the Daughters of the American Revolution plans to vote for you because your mother is a member. But two out of three of the Sons of Revolution are against you because your great-great-great-grandfather was tarred and feathered as a Tory in New Jersey in 1778."

"Now we need an issue you're foursquare for. Whoever heard of a successful candidate who wasn't foursquare for something or other?"

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has told a group of business executives to quit complaining about government-imposed wage-price controls and concentrate instead on making them work.

"There is going to be a lot of complaining," Nixon acknowledged Monday in an appearance before 1,500 executives attending the White House Conference on the Industrial World Ahead.

But Nixon told them, "I am prepared to take the heat, because I know I have put first things first—and full employment without inflation in a period of peace comes first."

Nixon then asked the businessmen:

"Are you going to crawl inside a shell and demand protection from world competition, or are you going to roll up your sleeves and increase productivity?"

"Are you going to expend your energies complaining about controls, or are you going to adopt wage-and-price controls that will remove the pressure of inflation and the need for controls?"

Nixon said businessmen and workers alike have "thought of the American economy as a kind of giant turtle—fat and lazy, with a protective shell that seemed impregnable

"The time has come for that turtle to stick its neck out and get moving—and as it does, it will show that America's competitive spirit is alive and healthy, ready to lead the world into the new prosperity."

Earlier, Arjay Miller, dean of Stanford University's School of Business and former president of Ford Motor Co., proposed that Congress create a "national goals institute" to identify priority social needs of the next two decades and determine the cost of solving them.

Miller said that many of the nation's seemingly difficult goals already are within reach.

Irish Split Over Demonstration

BELFAST (AP) — Northern Ireland's Roman Catholic leaders have split over plans for another demonstration on Wednesday.

Bernadette Devlin and the Civil Rights Association promised a day of disruption across the province with "sit-ins, sit-downs and all sorts of things." But Catholic members of the provincial parliament came out against the plan and called for a 24-hour fast instead.

Guerrilla gunmen kept up their terrorist campaign against British troops during the night, shooting and wounding two off-duty soldiers in Omagh and attacking a sentry post in Londonderry. No army casualties were reported in the Londonderry battle, but soldiers said four guerrillas fell and were dragged away by their comrades.

The Catholic lawmakers, who formed a rump parliament after walking out of the provincial legislature last year, said they oppose the "D-Day of Disruption" because they "do not want to risk the livelihood of anyone in the province."

The legislators proposed a fast starting at midnight Tuesday in Londonderry's "Free Derry Corner." That is where 13 civilians were killed Jan. 30 during clashes with British paratroopers.

Under the Special Powers Act, the Protestant provincial government has banned public rallies and marches, and police said Monday they have issued court summonses for 26 leaders of last Sunday's march in Newry.

Police did not say to whom they issued summonses, but Miss Devlin, the 24-year-old Catholic militant who sits in the British Parliament, said she had received one.

In New York, U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim said he had offered Britain and the Irish republic his good offices to help alleviate the situation in Northern Ireland and is awaiting a reply from Britain.
